MATCH DAY

WOSU Public Media has a very special opportunity this month to help you maximize your donation. It’s WOSU Public Media Match Day.

Beginning February 7 and for 24-straight hours, every gift to WOSU Public Media will be matched by generous donors who have contributed to our Match Day fund.

It’s easy to be part of Match Day! You can donate online, by phone or through social media. Listen all-day on 89.7 NPR News, Classical 101 or follow us online for updates on Match Day.

I hope you can join me for our Match Day special Thursday, February 8 at 7:30pm on WOSU TV as we end our annual Match Day celebration.

Your Match Day support creates the stable foundation of giving our community demonstrates every day. Mark your calendar and make your donation during this special time.

Curious Cbus Gets Even More Curious

We at WOSU and 89.7 NPR News are always looking for ways to engage our audience and get answers to the questions you want answered. Our Curious Cbus project has been a great tool to do just that. Listeners submit questions online, editors pick a few and ask people to vote for their favorite. Then a WOSU reporter goes out and finds the answer.

The Curious Cbus project has satisfied listeners’ inquisitiveness over how Refugee Road got its name and what happened to Columbus’ trolley cars. We investigated how Pee-Pee Township got its name and why the state rerouted the Olentangy River to make room for State Route 315.

This spring WOSU will take Curious Cbus to a new level. We want to answer more of your questions. We’ll continue to answer queries about history and oddities, but we also plan to use Curious Cbus to dig into more difficult issues like civil rights, housing prices and crime trends. It truly will be listener-driven news coverage.

Curious Cbus’ home is online, but we regularly feature the stories in 89.7 NPR News newscasts. We plan to answer Curious Cbus questions on All Sides with Ann Fisher, Columbus Neighborhoods, Broad & High and Columbus on the Record. We may even host a Curious Cbus event!

We journalists certainly don’t have all the answers and the Curious Cbus project has taught us we don’t always have all the questions. So if there is something you’ve always been curious about – ask us! Go to wosu.org/Curious.

February Highlights

Concerts At Ohio State
Host Christopher Purdy offers highlights from performances by some of the many fine ensembles and faculty at Ohio State. Hear it Sunday afternoons at 1pm.

February 4 – Selections from Mozart’s Idomeneo and Dvořák Cello Concerto in b minor
February 11 – Selections from McGinnis, Symphony for Band, and Little Threepenny Music by Weill
February 18 – Selections from Ginastera’s Four Dances from the Ballet Estancia
February 25 – Selections from Singer’s Suite for Horn and Harp and Tchaikovsky’s Symphony 6 in b “Pathetique”

The American Sound
In the dark deep freeze of winter, The American Sound will warm you up with lively music made in the USA. From Bernstein’s Symphonic Dances from West Side Story, to Earl Wild’s whimsical “Doo-Dah” Variations, Samuel Barber’s beautiful and fiery Violin Concerto and Eric Whitacre’s haunting choral work Water Night, you’ll have all you need to shake off the winter doldrums. Join host Jennifer Hambrick for The American Sound, 6 pm Saturday and 7 pm Tuesday on Classical 101.

February 3/6 – Copland’s Saturday Night Waltz joins up with Bernstein’s Symphonic Dances from West Side Story and a Waltz in Ragtime by Lou Busch.
February 10/13 – Earl Wild’s fabulous “Doo-Dah” Variations pair up with a journey out west with Copland’s Billy the Kid.
February 17/20 – Samuel Barber’s romantic and sizzling Violin Concerto takes center stage. There’s also a fun piece Russian composer Igor Stravinsky composed while in America and American composer Charles Ives’ boisterous Country Band March.
February 24/27 – It’s an American tango by Morton Gould and a trip to an old-fashioned American cotillion with the early music ensemble Hesperus. Also, Eric Whitacre’s haunting choral work Water Night – and more.
