MATCH WEEK is coming, Pg 2
Higgy/Tyler winner announced, Pg 9

Airfare will end print publication in May
Match Week begins February 6.

WOSU Match Week 2023 runs February 6 through 10. Based on the overwhelming response to Match Day, we’ve decided to expand Match Day to Match Week. However, we are making a very important promise to our viewers and listeners; we will not do traditional pledge breaks. Rather, we will air announcements over the course of the week encouraging people to give.

Your gift, no matter the amount, will be matched up to $50,000 thanks to our Match Week donors ENGIE-Axium, The Lurie Family Charitable Fund of the Columbus Foundation, Bailey and John and Joyce Wallach.

This is your opportunity to have your gift amplified. And the best part, you have an entire week to do it.

There is still time for you to participate as one of our Match Week donors. Contact Tara Kreider advancement@wosu.org for more information.

We hope to hear from you during Match Week and thank you for supporting WOSU Public Media.

Thanks to Our Donors

In Memoriam

John Victor Schmidt

John Victor Schmidt, 100, WOSU-TV personality, OSU Professor Emeritus and OSU Athletic Hall of Fame inductee, National Collegiate champion pole vaulter, National Tree Farmer of the Year 1989, and former Broadway performer, died peacefully on December 24, 2022 at his home in Sycamore Hills surrounded by family, two weeks shy of his 101st birthday. He was born on January 8, 1922, in Mt. Gilead, OH, the son of Jacob Philip Schmidt, an OSU Professor Emeritus and Ohio Cooperative Extension Service (OCES) agent, and Lorene (Peshak) Schmidt, a musician. John was the middle of three children, born between sisters Birdie and Joy, all three raised in Columbus, OH.

In 1955, John began work at WOSU radio in anticipation of the launch of WOSU-TV in 1956. WOSU-TV premiered on February 20, 1956, and John was the first live person to be seen on the air at 3:40pm. He would continue to be seen and heard on WOSU-TV and radio for decades as a host, singer, and sports commentator, his official title growing from Announcer (1956) to Program Assistant (1957) to Supervisor of Special Programming (1958). Notable programs during this period include “Play By Play”, “Songs for a Summer Evening” (with his wife Mary), “Dateline OSU”, and “Kid’s Stuff”.

WOSU Welcomes Digital News Editor
Jared Clayton Brown

The WOSU Newsroom recently welcomed veteran journalist Jared Clayton Brown as its new digital editor. A graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Jared began his journalism career in public radio in his native Detroit, and then worked in TV newsrooms in Atlanta, Louisville, and Columbus.

Jared is responsible for editing and publishing news stories on wosu.org and sharing them on WOSU’s Facebook, Instagram, and Twitter feeds.

With solid journalistic instincts and engaging personality Jared immediately melded with his colleagues.

“It feels like such a gift to be part of a team where my input and voice are valued,” Jared says.

“Before coming here, I wasn’t sure if there was a place for me in this business.”

Jared is not shy about his passions. He’s a huge fan of the TV show, The Golden Girls, and analyzed all 180 episodes to write his thesis while earning a Master of Popular Culture degree from Bowling Green University. And as a big Michigan fan, Jared enjoyed bragging rights this year. To soften the blow for Buckeye fans after The Game he brought in a Maize and Blue cake for the WOSU staff.

Next year, he’ll enjoy a Scarlet and Grey cake.
Met Opera

February’s operas kick off on February 4 with a classic recording from the Met archives. Francesco Molinari-Pradelli leads an all-star cast of Verdi’s Macbeth with Sherrill Milnes in the title role. Martina Arroyo, Ruggero Raimondi and Franco Tagliavini round out the cast from February 1973.

February 11 commemorates the centenary of the great director Franco Zeffirelli with a special presentation drawn from the archives, while two performances from the current season round out the month. It’s Verdi’s Don Carlo on February 18 and Shostakovich’s Lady Macbeth of Mtsensk on February 25.

Performances of the Metropolitan Opera—Toll Brothers International Radio Network air Saturdays at 1pm on Classical 101.

The American Sound

The music on The American Sound features music that will bring light and warmth to the long, dark days of February.

This month you’ll hear Barbara Harbach’s powerful orchestral work Mischances of Life, inspired by Willa Cather’s novel O Pioneers! There’s also a celebration of the rediscovery of Florence Price’s Piano Concerto in One Movement, the jazzy sparkle of Morton Gould’s American Symphonette No. 3, Howard Hanson’s “Nordic” Symphony, and the fiery virtuosity of Chris Brubeck’s Affinity: Concerto for Guitar and Orchestra.

Join host Jennifer Hambrick Saturday evenings at 6pm and Tuesdays at 7pm on Classical 101.

Symphony Showcase

Composer Johannes Brahms was a harsh self-critic and destroyed many of his own works that he felt didn’t measure up. Consequently, the music we do have from him nears perfection. During February, enjoy the symphonic music of Brahms on Symphony Showcase.

Join host Kent Teeters for symphonies, dances, overtures and variations all this month on Symphony Showcase: Sundays at 6pm and Thursdays at 7pm.

Concerts at Ohio State

Join Christopher Purdy Sunday afternoons at 1pm this month for more highlights from the outstanding musical ensembles and soloists at the Ohio State University.
